

The Stirling Suite at The Control Tower Bed and Breakfast

Garden annex double room with pink en suite art deco bathroom and private living/breakfast room. While this is not a wartime building we have converted it to have the look and feel of the 1940s - so now it sits well next to the Control Tower in RAF blue.

This annex has been converted into a double B&B room with its own living / breakfast room. Its pink art deco bathroom has a large bath with shower above. It has patio doors leading to the garden. Each morning breakfast is delivered to your room.
